AP World History

Course Description

AP® World History is a yearlong college-level course designed to prepare students for the Advanced Placement (AP) World History Exam. The goal of this course is to explore historical themes common to societies around the world and across time periods, from prehistory to the present day. Emphasis is placed on critical and evaluative thinking skills, essay-writing, interpretation of original documents, and historiography. Students will demonstrate their understanding and acquisition of skills through written work, document-based questions, project-based activities, and practice exams.

Historical Themes

Throughout this course, students will be exposed to five historical themes. These themes, which tap into the big ideas in world history, allow students to identify trends and make connections across six historical time periods. [CR2]

Theme 1: Interaction between Humans and the Environment [CR4]
- Demography and disease
- Migration
- Patterns of settlement
- Technology

Theme 2: Development and Interaction of Cultures [CR4]
- Religions
- Belief systems, philosophies, and ideologies
- Science and technology
- The arts and architecture

Theme 3: State-Building, Expansion, and Conflict [CR4]
- Political structures and forms of governance
- Empires
- Nations and nationalism
- Revolts and revolutions
- Regional, transregional, and global structures and organizations

Theme 4: Creation, Expansion, and Interaction of Economic Systems [CR4]
- Agricultural and pastoral production
- Trade and commerce
- Labor systems (ECON-5)
- Technology and its relationship to Industrialization (ECON-4)
- States and their support of Capitalism and socialism (ECON-3) (ECON-8)
Theme 5: Development and Transformation of Social Structures [CR4]

- Gender roles and relations
- Family and kinship
- Racial and ethnic constructions
- Social and economic classes

Key Concepts

Key concepts are used to organize the course by six time periods. This syllabus references the key concepts as identified by the College Board®. The key concepts help students understand, organize, and prioritize historical developments within each era.

Key Activities

Historical thinking skills acquisition: Throughout the course, students will be asked to complete key activities that tap into the four major historical thinking skills—analyzing historical sources and evidence, making historical connections, chronological reasoning, and creating and supporting a historical argument.

Primary and secondary source analysis: In these activities, students will examine primary and secondary sources, including maps, charts, speeches, diaries, letters, personal ideologies, official documents, traditional stories, and more. Students will analyze these sources to make connections across places and time periods and to identify common themes.

Essays and writing assignments: Throughout the course, students will have regular writing assignments that will require them to analyze primary and secondary sources; draw comparisons; argue and support opinions; identify similarities and differences among events, groups of people, and places; and identify causes and effects. Students are expected to draft a thesis statement, and draw upon historical evidence to support their arguments. [CR16] There are several long essays in the course that require students to compare and contrast, analyze cause and effect, analyze continuity and change over time, and evaluate for periodization.

Throughout the course, students practice writing responses to AP World History style short-answer questions.

Document-based questions (DBQs): Students will also respond to document-based questions (DBQs) as part of their writing and their historical analysis of primary and secondary sources. These questions will mimic the types of DBQs that students will experience on the AP World History Exam. Students will be expected to support a thesis with relevant historical evidence. [CR16]

Projects: Students will complete two major research projects during the course.

In the first semester, students will create a multimedia presentation that compares and contrasts imperial governments from 600 CE to 1450 CE. Students will choose from a list of empires to analyze. [CR8]

In the second semester, students will create a multimedia presentation that analyzes continuities and changes in gender roles across each of the six periods of AP World History. Students are expected to include evidence from societies and cultures from each region.

Course Materials

Textbook

Reader

Primary sources
Students will read and analyze selected primary sources included in Strayer and Reilly, as well as individual selections from a wide variety of other sources. See course outline below for specific selections. [CR1b]

Secondary sources
Kelly-Gadol, Joan. “Did Women have a Renaissance”, from Women, History, and Theory: The Essays of Joan Kelly-Gadol.

Other works of historical interpretation used in the course are taken from Reilly. See course outline below for specific selections. [CR1c]

Course Outline

Unit 1: Technological and Environmental Transformations to 600 BCE

Key Concepts
- Key Concept 1.1. Big Geography and the Peopling of the Earth
- Key Concept 1.2. The Neolithic Revolution and Early Agricultural Societies
- Key Concept 1.3. The Development and Interactions of Early Agricultural, Pastoral, and Urban Societies

Topics for Overview
- Human origins and the Neolithic Revolution (ENV-6) (ECON-1)
- Early peoples and civilizations of the Fertile Crescent (ENV-4) (ENV-8)
- Egyptian and Nubian cultures (ENV-4)
Textbook Reading
- Strayer 2013, ch. 1–2

Examples of Key Activities
Essays and writing assignments:
- Short writing assignment: In response to a Short Answer Question, students evaluate the extent to which the Agricultural Revolution was a turning point in world history (ENV-1). [CR14] [CR15]
- Read Women in the First Urban Communities by Catherine Clay, Chandrika Paul, and Christine Senecal (Reilly 2013, 25) (SOC-1). [CR1b: textural]
- Short-answer question:
  A. Identify and explain two specific technological developments that enabled the growth of complex civilizations (e.g., Mesopotamia, Egypt, etc.) from 3500 BCE to 1500 BCE. (ENV-1)(SB-1) [CR4]
  A. Identify and explain one social effect of the development or growth of complex civilizations. (ENV-9) (SOC-2) [CR4]

Primary and secondary source analysis:
- Life and Afterlife in Mesopotamia and Egypt (Strayer 2013, 92–107). Students will read this selection, which includes readings from The Epic of Gilgamesh, Hammurabi’s Code, and the Book of the Dead. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  What similarities and differences between ancient Mesopotamian and Egyptian civilizations can you infer from these documents? How might one account for these differences? [CR4] [CR8]

Other Activities:
- Explore how archeologists have contributed to our understanding of ancient civilizations by creating an artifact poster. Choose one of these three civilizations to research: the Sumerian civilization of Mesopotamia, the Harappan civilization, or the Shang dynasty in China. [CR4] [CR11]
- Use historical thinking skills to better understand historical concepts. In this assignment, students analyze the following primary and secondary sources for author’s point of view, author’s purpose, audience, and historical context: [CR6]
  -The political cartoon, [CR1b: Visual] The Bostonians Paying the Excise-Man
  -A diary entry from Christopher Columbus [CR1b: Textual]

Unit 2: Organization and Reorganization of Human Societies, 600 BCE to 600 CE

Key Concepts
- Key Concept 2.1 The Development and Codification of Religious and Cultural Traditions
- Key Concept 2.2 The Development of States and Empires (SB-1)
- Key Concept 2.3 Emergence of Transregional Networks of Communication and Exchange
AP World History

Topics for Overview

- Early civilizations: the Middle East, South Asia, East Asia, the Americas, Oceania, and Africa [CR5d] [CR5a] [CR5b]
- Government and society in Greece and Rome [CR5e]
- Major belief systems, religions, and philosophies

Textbook Reading

- Strayer 2013, ch. 3–6

Examples of Key Activities

Essays and writing assignments:

- Essay (document-based question): Students write an essay in which they compare and contrast the influences of religion and religious ideology in Rome and China before 600 CE. After analyzing the documents, students will develop a written argument that has a thesis supported by relevant historical evidence and is organized in a cohesive way. This assignment includes selections from the following documents [CR1b: textual]: Shu Jing (Classic of History), a sixth-century BCE story of an 18th century BCE Shang king, the Xiao Jing (Classic of Filial Piety), ca 400 BCE, the Confucian Analects, the poem Fasti by Roman poet Ovid, 8 CE, Virgil’s Aeneid, and letters from the Apostle Paul. [CR16] [CR4] [CR15]

Primary and secondary source analysis (such as but not limited to):

- The Good Life in Eurasian Civilizations (Strayer 2013, 198–207). Students will read documents [CR1b: Textual], which include readings from Confucius’s Analects, reflections from the Hindu scripture the Bhagavad Gita, and an excerpt from Plato’s Apology. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.

  In describing the “good life” or the “good society,” what commonalities do you see among these four documents? What differences are apparent? How might the authors of each text respond to the ideas of the others? (CUL-1)

- Patriarchy and Women’s Voices (Strayer 2013, 243–51). Students will read this selection, which includes readings [CR1b: Textual] from Ban Zhao’s Lessons for Women, a selection of Buddhist scriptures from Psalms of the Sisters, and an excerpt from Livy’s history of Rome. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.

  Based on these documents, how might you compare the gender systems of China, India, and the Roman Empire? What common features of patriarchy did they share? In what ways did they differ? (CUL-1) (CUL-4) (SOC-1) [CR1b]

- Analyze excerpts from the writings of Confucius, including The Analects, and Han Fei to assess the influence of Confucianism and legalism on Chinese culture and government. (CUL-1) [CR1b: Textual]

- Read and compare The Epic of Gilgamesh, the Indian story “Manu and the Magic Carp,” and the story of Noah from the Torah. (CUL-2) [CR1b: Textual]
AP World History

• Compare the funeral oration given by Pericles following the Peloponnesian War to Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, analyzing for author’s point of view, author’s purpose, audience, and historical context. [CR1b: Textual] [CR6]

• Analyze maps, such as Africa in the Classical Era [CR1b: Visual] and secondary sources to identify the importance of trade to the Kingdom of Axum. (CUL-6) [CR1b: Textual]

• Read Austronesian, Indo-European, and Bantu Migrations by Patrick Manning (Reilly 2013, 280) to evaluate how societies adapted to their environment over time. (ENV-2) (CUL-6) [CR1c]

• Short writing: Evaluate the effects of geographic isolation on the development of societies in central Africa and North America. (ENV-3)

• Read Greek and Indian Civilization by William H. McNeill (Reilly 2013, 81). (SB-1) [CR1c]

Unit 3: Regional and Transregional Interactions, c. 600 CE to 1450 CE

Key Concepts
• Key Concept 3.1. Expansion and Intensification of Communication and Exchange Networks
• Key Concept 3.2. Continuity and Innovation of State Forms and Their Interactions
• Key Concept 3.3. Increased Economic Productive Capacity and Its Consequences

Topics for Overview
• The ancient global economy and the impact of expanding trade networks (ECON-10)
• Civilizations in East and West Africa [CR5a]
• Imperial China (SB-1)
• The spread of Islam and its role in government (SB-2)
• The Byzantine Empire (SB-1)
• The Early Middle Ages, including church authority in Europe (SB-2) [CR5e]
• Feudalism in Europe and Japan
• The impact of the Crusades
• Russia and Eastern Europe [CR5e]
• The Ottoman and Mughal Empires (SB-1) [CR5c]
• The Ming Dynasty (SB-1) [CR5c]
• The Black Death and its effects (ENV-7)

Textbook Reading
• Strayer 2013, ch. 7–12

Examples of Key Activities

Essays and writing assignments:

• Short writing assignment: What were the causes and consequences of the Crusades? Consider political, economic, cultural, and social effects. [CR4] [CR10] [CR12]
• Short writing assignment: How can you explain the changing fortunes of Buddhism in China?
• Short writing assignment: What were the causes and consequences of Islam’s substantial religious and political/military success in its early centuries? [CR4] [CR12]
AP World History

- Short writing assignment: What accounts for the different historical trajectories of the Byzantine and West European expressions of Christendom? [CR4]
- Short writing assignment: In what ways do the civilizations of China, Europe, and the Islamic world in the fifteenth century seem to be moving in the same direction, and in what respects were they diverging from one another? [CR4]
- Short answer question: Many historians view the rise of the Mongol Empire (1206–1368) as a major turning point in world history.
  A. Provide two pieces of evidence that support this argument, and explain how each piece supports the argument.
  B. Provide one piece of evidence that undermines this argument, and explain how it undermines the argument. [CR15]

Primary and secondary source analysis (such as but not limited to):

- Travelers’ Tales and Observations (Strayer 2013, 344–63). Students will read these documents [CR1b: Textual], which include excerpts from Huili’s Biography of the Tripitaka Master, Xuanzang’s Record of the Western Region, Ibn Battuta’s Travels in Asia and Africa, and The Travels of Marco Polo. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  Each of these documents was written by an outsider to the people or society he is describing. What different postures toward these foreign cultures are evident in the sources? How did the travelers’ various religions shape their perception of places they visited? How did they view women of their host societies?

- Perspectives on the Mongols (Strayer 2013, 542–57). Students will read these documents [CR1b: Textual], which includes excerpts from The Secret History of the Mongols, Chinggis Khan’s letter to Changchun, and The Chronicle of Novgorod. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  What are the strengths and limitations of these documents for understanding the Mongols? Taking positions of the authors into account, what exaggerations, biases, or misunderstandings can you identify in these sources? What information seems credible and what should be viewed more skeptically?

- Students analyze passages written during the Tang and Song Dynasties including by Emperor Tang Taizong, Song Ruozhao, and Yuan Cai and then evaluate the role of Confucianism. (SOC-3) [CR4] [CR1b: Textual]
- Considering the Evidence: The Leisure Life of China’s Elites (Strayer 2013, 417-423). Students will analyze visual sources [CR1b: visual] including artwork titled, A Banquet with the Emperor, At Table with the Empress, a Literary Gathering, and Solitary Reflection. Using these sources, students will write a description of the life of Chinese elites during the Tang and Song Dynasties.
- Compare opposing documents of the siege of Jerusalem—one from a Christian crusader who was an eyewitness, and one from a Muslim historian, to evaluate for reliability. Analyze for author’s point of view, author’s purpose, audience, and historical context. [CR1b: Textual] [CR4] [CR6]
AP World History

- Read excerpts from William of Rubruck’s Account of the Mongols. [CR1b: Textual] [CR9]
- Read Were the Barbarians a Negative or a Positive Factor in Ancient and Medieval History? by Gregory Guzman (Reilly 2013, 402). [CR1c] [CR9]
- Read The Comparative Communal Responses to the Black Death in Muslim and Christian Societies by Michael W. Dols (Reilly 2013, 474). (ENV-7) [CR1c]
- Read Southernization by Lynda Norene Shaffer (Reilly 2013, 286). [CR1c]
- Read Rethinking the Fall of Easter Island by Terry L. Hunt (Reilly 2013, 545). [CR1c]
- Students evaluate the extent to which the Ming Dynasty’s decision to pursue isolationism was a turning point in world history. [CR14]

Projects

Students will create a multimedia presentation that compares two societies. They will respond to the following prompt. [CR3] [CR8]

Compare and contrast the structure and authority of imperial governments between 600 CE and 1450 CE. (SOC-3) [CR4]

Choose two of the following four governments to analyze.

The Aztec Empire
The Byzantine Empire
The Mongol Empire
The Song Dynasty

Unit 4: Global Interactions, 1450 CE to 1750 CE

Key Concepts

- Key Concept 4.1. Globalizing Networks of Communication and Exchange
- Key Concept 4.2. New Forms of Social Organization and Modes of Production
- Key Concept 4.3. State Consolidation and Imperial Expansion

Topics for Overview

- The impact of global exchange and growing trade networks (ECON-1) (ECON-10)
- Voyages of exploration, the conquest of the Americas, and the meeting of three worlds (ECON-1) (ECON-10) [CR5a] [CR5b]
- The Atlantic slave trade [CR5a] [CR5b]
- The Commercial Revolution (ECON-13)
- The influence of cultural revolutions, including the Renaissance, the Protestant Reformation, the Counter-Reformation, the Scientific Revolution, and the Enlightenment (SB-2) (ECON-2) [CR5e]

Textbook Reading

- Strayer 2013, ch. 13–15

Examples of Key Activities

Essays and writing assignments:
• Long essay question: Students write an essay in which they analyze the continuities and changes in labor systems between 1450 and 1750. Students will develop a written argument that has a thesis supported by relevant historical evidence and is organized in a cohesive way. (SOC-2) (ECON-5) [CR4] [CR13] [CR16]

• Short writing assignment: In what ways did European empires in the Americas resemble their Russian, Chinese, Mongol, and Ottoman counterparts, and in what respects were they different? (SB-1)

• Short writing assignment: To what extent did the cultural changes of the early modern world derive from cross-cultural interaction? To what extent did they grow from within particular societies or civilizations? (CUL-6)

• Short-answer question: “The Spanish have a perfect right to rule these barbarians of the New World and the adjacent islands, who in prudence, skill, virtues, and humanity are as inferior to the Spanish as children to adults, or women to men, for there exists between the two as great a difference as between savage and cruel races and the most merciful, between the most intemperate [lacking in self-control] and the moderate and temperate, and, I might even say, between apes and men.” – Juan Gines de Sepulveda, 1574.

A. Explain two examples of policies that the Spanish pursued in the Americas as a result of the views expressed above.

B. Explain one piece of evidence that would contradict the view of American Indians that Sepulveda holds. [CR9]

Primary and secondary source analysis (such as but not limited to):

• Voices from the Slave Trade (Strayer 2013, 700–717). Students will read this selection [CR1b: Textual], which includes excerpts from The Interesting Narrative of the Life of Olaudah Equiano, King Affonso I’s letters to King Jao of Portugal, and Thomas Phillips’s Journal of a Voyage Made in the Hannibal of London. Then, they will respond to the following prompt. (SOC-2) (ECON-6) [CR9]

What different experiences of the slave trade are reflected in these documents? How can one account for these differences? What perspectives are missing that might add other dimensions to one’s understanding of this commerce in people?

• The Conquest of Mexico through Aztec Eyes (Strayer 2013, 660–67). [CR1b: Textual]

Based on the information in this section, write a brief description of the conquest from the Aztec point of view.

• Read an excerpt from Cervantes’s Don Quixote to identify elements of humanism. [CR1b: Textual]

• Analyze the works of philosophers of the Enlightenment, including John Locke’s Two Treatises of Government and Thomas Hobbes’s Leviathan. (CUL-4) (SB-2) [CR1b: Textual]

• Read The Conquest of Paradise by Kirkpatrick Sale (Reilly 2013, 597). (ECON-1) [CR1c]

• Read “Vikings and Polynesians” by Merry Weisner from Discovering the Global Past: A Look at the Evidence, Vol. I (ENV-6) (CUL-6) [CR1c] [CR5d] [CR11]

- Read Women and Marriage in Europe and China by Mary Jo Maynes and Ann Waltner (Reilly 2013, 715). [CR1c]
- Compare and contrast two readings on women and the Renaissance by analyzing Did Women have a Renaissance? by Joan Kelly-Gadol and Women as a Force in History: A Study in Traditions and Realities by Mary R. Beard. Reflect by answering the following questions: Think about the term “Renaissance”, used by historians to describe the late medieval period. What are the limitations of the term “Renaissance Era” to describe this time period? Is this term appropriate for areas outside of Europe? Does it apply to members of the lower classes? What about women? (CUL-4) (CUL-6) [CR1c] [CR7] [CR13] [CR14]

Unit 5: Industrialization and Global Integration, 1750 CE to 1900 CE

Key Concepts

- Key Concept 5.1. Industrialization and Global Capitalism
- Key Concept 5.2. Imperialism and Nation-State Formation
- Key Concept 5.3. Nationalism, Revolution, and Reform
- Key Concept 5.4. Global Migration

Topics for Overview

- The Age of Revolutions, including the influence of the Enlightenment; the American, French, and Haitian Revolutions; and Latin American independence movements [CR5b]
- The abolition of slavery (ECON-7) [CR5b]
- Industrialization and global economic systems (ECON-9) (ECON-11)
- Imperialism and its effects around the world (SB-2) (SB-9)
- The creation of the nation-state
- Early Japanese and Korean civilizations and the rise of modern Japan [CR5c]

Readings

- Strayer 2013, ch. 16–19

Examples of Key Activities

Essays and writing assignments:

Essay (document-based question): In this assignment, students will analyze the causes and effects of Japan’s Meiji Restoration (1868). Students will analyze a set of documents, and then develop a written argument that has a thesis supported by relevant historical evidence and is organized in a cohesive way. [CR16]. The selection of documents includes excerpts from a letter [CR1b: Textual] of advice and warning from William of Holland (Netherlands) to Shogun Tokugawa Ieyoshi, 1844; the Treaty of Kanagawa, 1854 [CR1b: Textual]; the Constitution of Japan, 1889 [CR1b: Textual]; a map showing Japanese expansion from 1875 to 1910; [CR1b: Visual]; a table showing the railway expansion and growth of firms in Japan from 1872 to 1912, [CR1b: Quantitative] and a Japanese painting [CR1b: Visual] showing samurai rowing out to meet the arriving American naval expedition of Commodore Matthew Perry, 1853. (SB-2) [CR4] [CR10] [CR12] [CR15]

- Short writing assignment: What did humankind gain from the Industrial Revolution, and what did it lose?

- Short writing assignment: In what different ways did the colonial experience reshape the economic lives of Asian and African societies? How were the lives of women affected? (SOC-7) (SB-10) [CR5a] [CR10]

- Short writing assignment: Compare and contrast industrialization in Japan, Russia, and the United States. (SB-2) (CUL-6)

- After analyzing primary sources related to the challenges of industrialization, including photographs by Jacob Riis [CR1b: Visual], the Reform Act of 1832, a timeline of Labor Reform measures [CR1b: Quantitative], the New York State Commission’s investigation into working conditions in tenement houses, students will evaluate the success of reform efforts in the industrial era. (ECON-7)

- Short-answer question: After analyzing an image [CR1b: Visual] of the first meeting of the Indian National Congress, 1885, students will respond to the following prompt:
  A) Identify and explain two historical claims about India in the late 19th century that can be supported based on the image.
  B) Identify and explain one limitation of the image as a source of information about India in the late 19th century.

Primary and secondary source analysis (such as but not limited to):

- Claiming Rights (Strayer 2013, 812–25). Students will read this selection [CR1b: Textual], which includes excerpts from The Declaration of the Rights of Man and Citizen, Simón Bolívar’s Jamaica Letter, Frederick Douglass’s “What to the Slave Is the Fourth of July?,” and Elizabeth Cady Stanton’s The Solitude of Self. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  In what different ways does the idea of “rights” find expression in these four documents? Which documents speak more about individual rights and which focus on collective rights? What common understandings can you identify?

- Changing China (Strayer 2013, 958–71). Students will read this selection [CR1b: Textual] which includes excerpts from Sun Yat-Sen’s “The Three People’s Principles and the Future of the Chinese People,” Qiu Jin’s Address to Two Hundred Million Fellow Countrywomen, and Emperor Guangxu’s Edict on Education. Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  To what extent do these proposals represent plans to “Westernize” China? Or, might they rather be considered “modernizing” efforts? What is the difference between the two concepts? (SOC-7)

- Read Simón Bolívar’s message to the 1819 Congress of Angostura to determine his purpose. (SB-2) [CR1b: Textual]

- Read an excerpt from King Leopold’s Ghost, by Adam Hochschild. (SB-1) (SB-8) (SB-10) (ECON-8) [CR1c]
• Analyze writings of Napoleon to identify both his support for and his rejection of Enlightenment ideals. \((SOC-6)\) \((SB-1)\) \([CR1b:\text{Textual}]\)

• Analyze Rudyard Kipling’s “The White Man’s Burden” as an explanation of new imperialism. \((SOC-6)\) \((ECON-8)\) \([CR1b:\text{Textual}]\)

• Read The Industrial Revolution outside the West by Peter Sterns (Reilly 2013, 823) and Asia and the Industrial Revolution by Arnold Pacey (Reilly 2013, 801) to compare and contrast their interpretation of industrialization outside of the west. \([CR1b:\text{Quantitative}]\) \((ECON-9)\) \([CR1c]\)

Unit 6: Accelerating Global Change and Realignments, 1900–Present

Key Concepts
- Key Concept 6.1. Science and the Environment
- Key Concept 6.2. Global Conflicts and Their Consequences
- Key Concept 6.3. New Conceptualizations of Global Economy, Society, and Culture

Topics for Overview
- World War I, World War II, and the Holocaust \((SB-2)\) \((SB-8)\) \((SB-10)\) \([CR5e]\)
- Growth of authoritarianism \((SB-1)\)
- The Cold War and its effect on global political and economic policies \((SB-3)\) \([CR5b]\)
- The legacy of imperialism
- Decolonization in Africa and Asia \((SOC-7)\) \([CR5a]\) \([CR5c]\)
- Indian independence \((SOC-3)\) \((SOC-7)\) \([CR5c]\)
- Nationalism in the Middle East \((SB-7)\)
- Globalization and its effects \((CUL-6)\) \((CUL-9)\)
- Challenges and changes in the modern world, including genocide, development, poverty, and disease
- The impact of science and technology, including the Green Revolution and its effects \((ENV-8)\) \((SB-7)\)
- Demographic change, urbanization, and migration
- Environmental issues \((ENV-9)\)

Textbook Reading
- Strayer 2013, ch. 20–23

Examples of Key Activities

Essays and writing assignments:

• Long Essay Question: Students will write an essay that compares the economic transformations of China and Russia during the twentieth century. Students are expected to include a thesis statement, and support it with historical evidence and organize it in a cohesive way. \([CR4]\) \([CR10]\) \([CR16]\)

• Short writing assignment: What explains the disasters that befell Europe in the first half of the twentieth century? \((SB-2)\)

• Short writing assignment: Why did the communist experiment, which was committed to equality, abundance, and a humane socialism, generate such oppressive, brutal, and totalitarian regimes and failed economies? (CUL-5) (SOC-3) (SB-4) (ECON-9)

• Short-answer question:
  “One sometimes hears it said, ‘Let us get the government of India in our own hands, and everything will be all right.’ There could be no greater superstition than this.”
  –Mohandas K. Gandhi

A. Explain one example of how this sentiment is true of India after independence.
B. Explain one example of how this sentiment is true of another Asian country after independence.
C) Explain one example of how this sentiment is true of one African country after independence. [CR5a]

Primary and secondary source analysis (such as but not limited to):

• Contending for Islam (Strayer 2013, 1120–35). Students will read this selection [CR1b: Textual], which includes excerpts from Mustafa Kemal Atatürk’s speech to the General Congress of the Republican Party (1927), Sayings of the Ayatollah Khomeini, and Kabir Helminski’s “Islam and Human Values.” Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  What historical circumstances might help to account for the different understandings of Islam that are reflected in these documents? (SOC-5) (SB-1)

• Voices of Global Feminism (Strayer 2013, 1173–87). Students will read this selection [CR1b: Textual], which includes excerpts from Alexandra Kollontai’s “Communism and the Family,” the Indigenous Women’s Petition of the Maya women of Mexico, and Benazir Bhutto’s “Politics and the Muslim Woman.” Then, they will respond to the following prompt.
  What aspects of global feminism were most revolutionary, liberating, or threatening to established authorities and ways of living? To what extent do you think the goals of these varying feminist efforts have been realized? (SOC-1)

• Read Mussolini’s speech about the invasion of Ethiopia and summarize how it reflects nationalist ideals. (CUL-4) (SB-2) [CR1b: Textual]

• Analyze excerpts from Viscount Bryce’s Treatment of Armenians in the Ottoman Empire, 1915–1916. (SB-1) [CR1b: Textual]

• Analyze excerpts from The Gulag Archipelago to identify how life changed in the Soviet Union under Stalin. (CUL-4) (SB-1) [CR1b: Textual]

• Read Jomo Kenyatta’s 1952 speech “The Kenya Africa Union Is Not the Mau Mau.” [CR1b: Textual] [CR5a]

• Analyze a film documentary about globalization and cultural challenges in China. (CUL-9) [CR1b: Visual]

• Analyze a variety of sources, including maps [CR1b: Visual], charts, and graphs [CR1b: Quantitative], to draw conclusions about the impact of coltan mining on the habitat of the eastern lowland gorilla. (ENV-5) [CR5a]
• Analyze a secondary source to evaluate the causes and effects of the Green Revolution in India. (ENV-8) (ENV-9) (ECON-1) [CR1c]

• Analyze how governments and international organizations must respond globally to challenges, including disease and poverty, the growth of terrorism, and environmental issues. (SB-2) (SB-7) (ENV-7)

• Read Dollarization by Sherif Hetata (Reilly 2013, 1091) and Cultural Globalization Is Not Americanization by Philippe Legrain (Reilly 2013, 1096) to compare and contrast the different views on multinational corporations and globalization presented. (CUL-6) (CUL-9) (ECON-13) [CR1c]

Project

In this second-semester research project, students will create a multimedia presentation that analyzes continuity and change in response to the following prompt.
